Get the edge to edge look

Did you know most printed will print with a white margin around the edge? To get that professional design-to-edge look you actually need to print with extra design around the edge (called bleed) which is trimmed off.

Always use paper larger than the final print size so you can add bleed and crop marks and then trim to size.

Print Actual Size

In your print settings make sure set them to 'actual size' vs 'fit to page' to preserve the size

Print High Quality

In your print settings make sure set them 'high quality' or 'photo quality' for the best result
